

Lightning Source - Mozilla Firefox

File Edit View History Bookmarks Tools Help

lightningsource.com https://www.lightningsource.com/LSISecure/titles/TitleInfo.aspx?WIPID=&TitleID=C55346243&CallingPage=SetupSearch.aspx

View or Print Title Setup Details

Upload Revision
Submit Metadata Change
Request Price Change

Publisher: Athanata Arts, Ltd.
Publisher Number: 6025572
Publisher Reference Number: RHG061008

General Title Information

Publisher: Athanata Arts, Ltd.
Imprint: Athanata Arts, Ltd.
ISBN/SKU: 0972799338
ISBN Complete: 9780972799331
Status: Title in Premedia
Title: Poetic Amusement
Publication Date: 6/14/2008
Language: English

Back Zoom

Book Description (formally called "Annotation"):
 Originally written in 2000 as his Master's thesis, Raymond P. Hammond's Poetic Amusement has been passed around underground as a digital file for ten years among those associated with The New York Quarterly. As provocative today as it was when it was written, what began as Hammond's observations of the influence of "po' biz" and writing programs on contemporary American poetry became a timeless treatise on poetry itself. Using his experience with NYQ and devouring many literary critics across the ages from the ancient Greeks to contemporary critics, Hammond examines at once both our current literary environment and the essence of poetry. In seeking to answer the questions "What is poetry?" and "Where does poetry come from?" for himself, he encourages readers to ask those questions for and of themselves as well. Relevant and accessible to readers and writers of poetry and to those who think they don't know or want to know what poetry is, Poetic Amusement will anger, elevate and inspire all those who read it.

Contributors

	Name	Role
1:	Hammond, Raymond	Author

Subjects

	Subject Code	Description
1:	LIT014000	Literary Criticism : Poetry
2:	LIT004020	Literary Criticism : American - General
3:	LCO000000	Literary Collections : General

Market Pricing

Done

Screen clipping taken: 8/4/2010, 12:31 PM